Air Ollie Magazine

Introduction

The Air Ollie Magazine is finally back since the start of 2020! This magazine will be published monthly. You can read interviews, development updates, interesting articles and more in this magazine. We would like to hear suggestions and feedback about the magazine in the Air Ollie Discord server.

The future of this magazine

To make this magazine we need you! We are now hiring writers for the magazine. Here are the steps to apply:

1. Join the Air Ollie Discord server.
2. Make a new ticket in the channel #bot_commands.
3. Tell us in the ticket what you are good at and if you have any experience with writing.

If you have any questions, feel free to message Lucaseen#5883 on Discord.

Interview

This week we interviewed robloxiscoolikenl, Head of Departments Cabin Crew at Air Ollie.

What do you like about Air Ollie?

I really like the staff members and the detailed planes at Air Ollie. As for the detailed planes, I really like the interiors, as well as the exteriors of the planes. Also the staff members at Air Ollie are friendly and serious.

What do you think about the future of Air Ollie?

I think that the future will be bright. I hope we will become the biggest and best airline on Roblox, plus I hope to see new airports and planes with even more details.

What is your job as a Head of Departments at Air Ollie?

I am responsible for the training of the Cabin Crew and Airport Staff department. I also host flights and I need to make staff documents (for example, training guides) in some cases.

What do you like the most about Air Ollie flights?

I like how the flights are operated, how the staff works and the planes we use.

New Boeing added to the fleet

Air Ollie officially launched the new 737-800, EI-AME together with a brand new cabin this month. We asked the president for a comment.

I must say it's been a hell of a roller coaster ride to release this plane, we originally bought the aircraft as a Boeing 737 MAX-8. I thought the FAA would have cleared it by now but they didn't, the new cabin was ready a while back but with further issues with the A321NEO LR It meant it would be a massive wait until we could release our long awaited new seats. We compromised by converting the MAX into a 737-800, the seats were then fitted for it and it begun testing. We found countless bugs on the plane, took me and the developers about two weeks to fix but eventually on 06-03-2020 we officially launched her. Registered EI-AME and named Ashley. She is a true beauty to behold. Originally when the airline was founded we wanted the 737 to be at the center of our fleet. After over a year without the 737 I am so happy to welcome her back into Air Ollie. Myself and the airline look forward to all the happy memories she will bring!

Air Ollie's long haul project, cancelled?

Recently Air Ollie announced a new project for 2020, Project Long Haul.

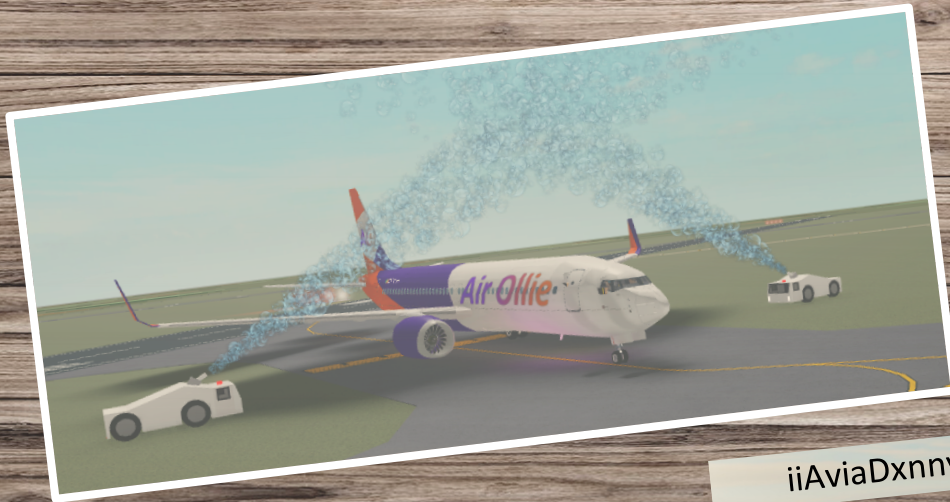

Unfortunately, our Airbus A330neo orders have been cancelled by the provider leaving passengers asking questions as to how Air Ollie is going to start its long haul program. The plan contained operating an A330-900neo aircraft out of Europe to explore the Middle East and Canada. The SHR team is currently searching for a replacement long haul aircraft for Air Ollie.

New food and menus on Air Ollie flights

This year our most requested change was that we get new proper food. Recently Air Ollie with the help of Devilbadger101 (Developer), has brought in menus with brand new food for all it's classes. The food is extremely detailed and is a major part of Air Ollie's 2020 passenger experience plan. The food was released along side the new cabin in the 737-800 and the feedback was amazing. The president had this to say "I love and enjoy Air Ollie and I want passengers to as well. Passenger experience is right at the heart of what makes us such a great airline and this is just another big step towards making us an even better airline".

New staff uniforms on the horizon?

Recently Air Ollie's president has revealed that new uniforms for all staff departments could be being released as early as March 15th, this is a surprising announcement after all the recent development progress on the 737. He had this to say "We modernized the cabin so why not give the people who work in it a new look as well, our old ones are dated and we have new smarter designs coming out now".
